CCP is delighted to report that the Witching Hour was a spellbinding success.

We acknowledge and thank those who contributed their artwork and their resources to making this a fitting event, in support of CCP.

We are pleased to report that CCP achieved 10% over our fundraising target.

Works that did not sell on the evening are available for sale over the next month.

Offering a range of fabulous experiences was a great success and we thank the artists who have generously contributed their time: John Gollings, Patrick Pound and Patricia Piccinini.

We are also pleased to report that even during a media strike we achieved the following media, with support from Communications Collective:

Acclaim, ProCounter, Broadsheet, RRR

Both the event and the exhibition were well attended and enjoyed by the community.

If you were able to join us on the evening, we trust you had a bewitched evening and we are delighted to share images taken by CCP's captivating photographer, J Forsyth.
